The Dispute & Scam Checklist

5 Key Scam Red Flags

1. Pushing to Leave the Platform Early

The client aggressively moves communication to WhatsApp, Telegram, or email before a contract is active to bypass platform protections.

2. High Urgency with a Vague Brief

Instructions are incredibly muddy, but the client demands immediate delivery massively increasing the risk of rushed, unpaid work.

3. Shady or Delayed Payment Terms

The client ducks talking about money upfront or promises to pay you after delivery without any official escrow or platform guarantee.

4. Sketchy Links or Attachments

The client sends random files or weird links under the guise of "project briefs" that could actually be malware or phishing traps.

5. Refusing to Lock In a Clear Scope

The client avoids pinning down exact deliverables, revision limits, or pricing, setting the stage for endless scope creep and disputes.

The 3-Step Dispute Protocol

Step 1: Pause & Keep It on the Platform

I will Stop all work immediately and make sure all communication stays strictly within the official platform.

Step 2: Collecting Evidence

I will Gather everything chats, contracts, submitted deliverables, and exact timelines so I can have full documentation.

Step 3: Filing a Formal Dispute

I will Submit a report through the platform's official resolution system and let their team handle the formal review.
